“ My father used to always tell me one day he would be gone and I'd be the man of the house I never liked those conversations I'd always run from them beti just couldn't wrap my head around the fact of not having somebody so pivotal in my life there one of the strongest men I've ever known he was the glue that held everything together and one guy I knew who could do just about anything he put his mind to from fixing a roof to breaking down a car piece by piece just to solve an issue he was so precise with everything it really had to be just right never perfect though as he always said nothing is perfect but god and I go through my memories of everything one message stands out the most take care of your mother don't let the house fail when he's gone so my promise to him is clear and I'm gonna do it for you dad I love you no more pain rest easy and watch over us

“ My uncle was literally the strongest guy I knew growing up and we would ask him to lift stuff just so we could watch him. He would flex and me and Edgar thought his gloves gave him special powers. Edgar went and got gloves just like our uncle's. But my uncle's heart was STRONG!!!! But I seen my uncle's heart melt whenever held one of his children...or how protective he was of my mom. I am happy he was/is my uncle.

“Keep your head up so you can see where you going, you gotta keep your eye on that blindsided, life gonna always hit you from that blindsided, but this time you'll see it coming and be prepared” - Adolph Sr.

No truer words have been spoken than the words spoken by my father. If you ever came in contact with him, I know he inspired you in some way. He not only inspired me but motivated me to never stop, never give up even in the darkest hours, he'd tell me to get up and "find your light". In every conversation he'd drop jewels that I kept with me throughout my life, and now those jewels are now memories and treasures that I will pass down to my children. Before you left this world you entrusted me with a task, to make you proud, to take care of my siblings no matter what. I tried my best to do that while you were still here, but now this task I must not abandon. You gave me life in more ways than one, and no matter what this life will mean something. You are our Angel now, I feel protected knowing God has his strongest soldier by his side. Your grandchildren love you and will miss you forever. No truer words have been spoken, because theirs never been a truer person in my life I love you dad. I know you holding your niece, laughing with Edgar and embraced by your parents and siblings.

"Stop crying man, shake that demon off like a quarterback does a linebacker."

“ I'll be the first to write. My dad was my hero he was there for me whenever I needed him and he stepped up to help me when I got divorced. He loved his grandbabies and they loved him. He always had a snack for them after school they couldn't wait to see him. He took good care of his family and especially my mom no matter what they went through he told me she drives me crazy but I love her and I gotta take care of her. So now that he's not physically here it's up to me and my brothers and my sister to take care of her. We want her to know that we got her now and we love her very much. So you can rest in peace dad we won't fail u. I love u daddy. From your kiddo Sandra
