He started a small band and they sang songs by James Brown, AL Green, etc. He loved cars and would buy and sale them as well. If you bought a car from him, you had better make sure you took good care of it and kept it clean (inside and out, if not, he would let you know about it). You would never see his cars with any dirt on them (not even fingerprints). A.C. also loved motorcycles and was part of a bikers group. He was a Master at fashion and loved his hats and boots of all kinds. He is, and was always the coolest thing in the room (and he knew). You can't beat the love he had for his family, If you missed calling him to check in, you can bet that he would call you and let you know that he didn't hear from you. A.C. loved taking long drives with his wife just to see new places and things. His wife said "it's the little things that he would do that made things so special in our relationship. Things most people would complain about doing, he would do with a smile on his face". Most people didn't see the smile and thought that he was a mean person, but the truth of the matter is, he had a heart of gold and would do anything he could for his family and friends. Left to celebrate his life, his devoted wife of 29 years, Teresa Cox mother Minnie Godley, five children Brian Cox (Renee) of Killeen, Texas, Shelby Cox-Brown of Raleigh, NC, Tyrone Jenkins of Denver Colorado, Jennifer Jenkins-Green (Stanley) of New Haven, CT and La Tonya Cox-Graham (Louis) of West Haven, CT, 14 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.
