“ Anton we became so close in such a short time. Every time I called you you would say hello love. And it always melted my heart. We both knew what we meant bro each other no matter what distance stood between us. And now instead of distance there is an unknown void. You will still live on in my memories and also in my heart. I keep wondering if this is a nightmare I will wake up from. I'm here wishing I could hear you laugh one more time at my silly Jamaican stories. I miss u Anton

“ The funniest person I had met in a long time, a few months ago he came to work where I used to work and a few minutes were not enough to introduce himself to the whole team and start having fun, he was a person with that spark that made us laugh at any occurrence that it came to his head, we always have lunch at the same time with another partner, he was always starving lol and always me and my partner had food for him and his face shone and he said thank you 10 times, he always tried to make an effort to speak Spanish, sing and dance latin songs that it was impossible not to laugh... It was only enough for one week in which I was no longer going to continue working when I received that call that left me in shock impossible believe it. But I stayed with the satisfaction that the last Sunday that I worked with him I said goodbye and told him that I would no longer continue working with them and I told him that it was a pleasure to meet him to which he replied or wooo don't tell me that, a pleasure for me too. That was like a great farewell that will stay in my mind forever... Fly high you were an angel on earth now God will have the person with the most contagious laugh with him.
