“ Carol, my grandmother, was a kind, compassionate and pious woman who took me in a few years ago while I was still trying to find my way and figure out what I wanted to do with my life. I remember watching “Jeopardy” together, sitting on her back porch just to enjoy the summer breeze, and the countless family gatherings (birthdays, graduations, etc) that shes been apart of. She’s always been a supportive, strong, Christian woman who was beloved by all of us, me especially. Not a grain of hatred/evil in her. For as long as I can remember I’ve never even heard her curse or have any ill-will towards Just sheer love, wisdom, compassion and kindness. I will forever cherish her memory and thank her for being such a bright light not only to me, but to everyone who knew her.

“ Sis. Brown will be missed. A woman with love in her heart for all. Always remember the Wednesday night dinner invites (with Bro. Brown's famous salad) and asking me to make carrot cake for her birthday. She was a woman of wisdom. She knew how to give advise to young mother's or anyone that crossed her path. A woman that enjoyed life and her surroundings. She would celebrate you on birthdays, weddings, etc. A woman of kind words. A Christian woman, a prayer warrior, a soldier in the Army of the Lord. This was how I remember Sis.Carol Brown. My condolences to all of her family.

“ My condolences to CrystallandGerrmain and the Gray family. I will be eternally grateful to aunt Carol for being there for me growing up. I remember she caught me the one time I rode my bike past her home to ask if I was going to vacation bible school again.

“ My mother was born in the south in the 1930's where racism was prevalent and approved by so called Christians. Her father served in WWII, when the country wouldn't show respect to those who voluntarily served. Her brothers served in Vietnam for the Navy & Marines when they were sending the working class and people of color to die while Racist cowards like Donald Trump paid their way out. She marched to Washington D.C. with her husband to hear Dr. Martin Luther King Speak. She saw the the loss of MLK, JFK, we watched the news of RFK's assassination together that next morning in 1968. Through it all she never told us to hate back. "Babies can't have that in they're lives, a happy childhood makes a happy adult with memories to pass on. Our Birthdays parties were a garden of every kid in the neighborhood. Every baby was her baby too. Years ago we're downtown Xmas shopping and out of nowhere a little white girl ran into here arms because she was so excited to see her, that's unconditional love for a child that was returned. That's my Mother

“ One of my favorite memories of my mommy is when she came to my high school when I was receiving an award (one of very few awards 😊). I remember her coming in the auditorium with three or four of her daycare children with her. I couldn't believe she brought all of them so after I got the award and went to her she gave me such a tight hug and a big kiss and I was so happy and she made all the children say "congratulations Germaine". I was just so happy she took the time to come to my school like she had done before but not with so many children LOL. But that's just how she was caring loving and supportive. I am going to miss her so much. Especially her silliness because she could really be silly and that's just where I got it from. I'm so glad the one true living God Jesus Christ didn't give me a rich mother or a famous mother but a holy mother who represented Christ and showed her love for him at all times. To God be the glory for the great things he has done!!
