“ My deepest condolences to Dante's family. I was Dante's music therapist at Oak Hill. He was not just a good drummer, he was gifted. A few years ago we were fortunate to get a grant for some new instruments. Dante had been wanting a drum set, he helped me find just the right one. This picture was right after we set it up. He could not wait to get his hands on those drumsticks and play. And play he did. I will always remember his joy when he played and the joy he brought to all around him. Rock on in heaven Dante, you will be so missed in this world.
