

Edgar T. Rembert

April 6, 1978 - July 23, 2015

Edgar T Gammage Rembert was born April 6, 1978 in Bridgeport, CT to Winfred Sr. and Patsy Rembert. He suddenly departed for his heavenly home on Thursday, July 23, 2015.

Edgar loved music and singing. The music of the eighties was his favorite. With his soulful voice he imitated Luther Vandross, Lionel Richie, and Michael Jackson. Not only could he sing, but Edgar would cut a rug on the dance floor. One of seven children of Winfred & Patsy he moved to New Haven at age seven. Edgar attended Troup middle school and graduated from James Hillhouse High school in 1997. At Hillhouse Edgar was a standout athlete competing in Football as well as indoor and outdoor Track and Field. Edgar briefly attended George Wallace State in Alabama. He was a loyal Giants and 49ers fan. Edgar played for the New Haven Knights and recently played Offensive Lineman for the New Haven Venom Semi-Pro football team.

Edgar was a passionate dreamer who always greeted everyone with a smile and kind word. He was dedicated to his parents and siblings. Edgar enjoyed delectable late night meals with his dad and singing "Three Pictures of the Lord" to his mom. In the midst of her preparing his meals, Edgar and his sister Lillian would spar about football. His team always won. He loved going to the movies with his brother Junior. Although he often fell asleep he would always wake up and say "that was a great movie!"

In addition to his parents he leaves six brothers, Winfred (Tamu), John, Mitchell, and Patrick Rembert, Robby Nunez, and Justin Waters. Two sister:

Lillian, and Nancy Rembert. Lifelong friend Devon McFarlane and Triston Harris. Edgar also leaves a host of uncles, aunts, cousins, nieces, nephews, friends and the community in which he lived.

“ As I shared a few days ago on Facebook, I did not have the pleasure of coaching or teaching Edgar. I do however, remember him fondly for his overall goodness, unbridled passion for Track & Field and Football. I also fondly remember this infectious smile. I pray that these wonderful tributes are of some comfort to the Rembert family.

I didn't know him personally but I would see him around with his smile and back in the days I would see him out dancing enjoying his self . My deepest condolences go out to his family and friends.

My deepest sympathy to the Rembert family. I remember the first time hearing that soulful rhythmic voice in the hallway of my office. I got up to see who the song bird was and to my amazement it was Edgar....music to my ears and definitely a God given talent. To Mrs. Rembert, I guess the dancing comes from you; as you tell my daughter every time you see her you're going to challenge her to a dance off! May God continue to strengthen & comfort you as you cherish his memories.

I never knew this man, but what I do know is the impact he and his family had on one of my favorite nephews - Devon McFarlane. Peace be with you all!
