“ I remember when daddy brought me to meet you and our other siblings I was so happy to have a big brother we became inseparable I would ride my bike all the way to fair haven to come be with you and never wanted to leave and the day you left me I seen you going to the other side of town and begged to come with you you told me if I meet you at the fire works in west haven but if I knew that would be my last time seeing your face I would of made you stay a little longer hugged you a little tighter and kissed you on the cheek and tell you I love you they stole you from me and there is not a day I dnt hurt thinking about you I cry staring at your pictures and now it hurts even more because daddy is gone and I hope you guys are together watching over us I love you both and miss your presence losing you both and but a big whole in my heart and I will never be that happy little girl I once was when I first met you you have a niece now and she's 7 she's so smart ik you would of loved her and she would of loved you I tell her about you every chance I get and how much you impacted my life I will never forget about you even when the world does you are forever imprinted in my mind and there is not a day I dnt wish I can have you guys back I pray you visit me in my dreams all the time I just miss you we all were suppose to grow old together and somebody took that away from us

“ I am sorry for your loss and I send my sincere condolences to the family and friends.

When unforeseen occurrences befall us, and the enemy death strikes, our grief can be great. It is at times like this that we need comfort and support whether we are acquainted or not.

May you find comfort in Almighty God promise of the resurrection. (Acts 24:15).

Our Loving Heavenly Father has promised to bring back to life our dearly beloved ones in a beautiful paradise earth.

(Luke 23:43, Psalms 37:11, 29).

All of God's promises will come true, for it is impossible for God to lie. (Hebrews 6:18).

Respectfully,
