

Furman Collins

October 31, 1961 - February 27, 2023

Furman transitioned peacefully on Monday, February 27, 2023, at 12:00a.m. at the age of 61 years.

Furman was born on October 31, 1961, in New Haven, CT to Furman Little and Gertrude Boomer. He graduated from Richard C. Lee High in 1979. Furman Collins entered Westover Job Corp In 1979. He was known as Jazzy to all students and became a very likable person and became very close to several students, and they became a very popular crew known as Swain Ville. They did everything together, including getting in a little trouble. Furman took up auto mechanics. He loved to dance and sing which led him to joining in Job Corp, Inc. Choir, and which they changed the lyrics-of this little light of mine to this old heart of mine. Furman decided to change his location to Boston where people assumed he was a Bostonian it seems that he had been there forever. Boston won't be the same without his showing up in a Cadi or a Lincoln just because that was him!!!Lol it made people's day when he just popped up, with that grin and his famous quote - "How you like me now". He was later ordained as a Deacon at Victory Temple Church in Boston where he served for many years.

He was very good at his job as an Auto Mechanic because everybody knows he loved his cars. He did other jobs, including car detailing and worked in the kitchen which was one of his favorites working with a chef. He also worked as a Security Guard and in Construction.

Furman leaves to mourn his mother Gertrude Boomer and his longtime girlfriend Daira. Two ex-wives Candi and Debbie. One son Khary and five daughters Nicolette, Janay, Christine, Shaunna, and Aisha three grandchildren Jaquan, Khyla and Kahlani, his great grandchildren Aniyah and Tianna. He also leaves one Aunt Beulah Smalls. He was preceded in death by his father Furman Little and his sisters' Christine Collins, Carolyn Durham, and his Stepfather Richard Collins and one Aunt Lilly Jane Boomer, a special uncle Eugene Collins and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins.
