“ Man I'm going to miss you Lil Sis. You have always been a very sweet, thoughtful and compassionate person. I'm pretty sure you've never changed. Though years have passed between us seeing one another, my hope was that one day we could reconnect with our significant others and reminisce about living and growing up in New Haven and our present lives. But the lord was in need of one more angel. You will always be my Lil Sis and I have miss your presence. To the Blackmon Family, we love you and we will be lifting you up. I pray that her husband and family is comforted during this difficult time. Please except our condolences. I Love and miss you Family.
