

Jermaine "Ty" Jackson

August 20, 1975 - April 10, 2021

Jermaine Tyrone "TY" Jackson was born August 20, 1975, to Samuel L. Jackson, Jr. and Georgia M. Jackson. He received Christ and was baptized at St. Matthews Unified Freewill Baptist Church under the leadership of Bishop Robert J. Gay in New Haven, Connecticut.

Jermaine attended Hamden High School where he played football. He also attended Barkley College and later attended Porter Chester Institute where he received a certification for Electrician.

He relocated to Montgomery, Alabama in 2010 to reunite with his family. He joined St. John Baptist Church under the leadership of Rev. Eddie Hill. He worked for Hyundai Motor Manufacturing Company. He alongside his brother Dennis were the owners of "The Streetz Auto Detailing."

He leaves to cherish his memories a loving mother and father, Georgia and Samuel L. Jackson, Jr., a grandmother Ruth J. Jackson; brother Dennis Jackson, sister Tammie T. Fuller and a niece who he adored very much, Kaylla A. Jackson. He also leaves seven uncles William J. Jackson and Frank D.(Diane) Jackson, both from Connecticut; Roy (Dorothy) Langford of North Carolina; Gus (Miriam) Langford, Luther C.(Rena) Langford, Anthony J. (Helen) Langford, James Thrasher all of Montgomery,AL; six aunts Geanetta(Samuel) Baxter of Georgia; Louise Artis of Montgomery; Martha

Baldwin of Michigan; Mary Sanders, Elizabeth Langford, Marie(James) Calhoun all of Montgomery and a host of cousins, other relatives and friends who loved him dearly.

“ My words can't express how deeply hurt and sad I felt when hearing of you passing away as well as right now. Not only were we childhood friends, we were also brothers. We did a lot of things together in our life bro, from going to the same elementary school (Lincoln Bassett), the same middle school (Jackie Robinson), and the same high school (Hamden High). You were always loyal to the soil with everyone and myself and that carried over to your love in Cadillac vehicles. You never deviated to another brand. You stuck to the script. I am definitely going to miss you my brother but will never forget you. Please watch over my family, our friends, and myself as well as the entire Jackson and extended families. I love you bro, forever and always!! There will never be another Fly Ty! Rest in peace 🙏🏾💯❤️
