Linda Diane Clay-Brown passed away peacefully on January 3, 2025 and was surrounded by family and loved ones. Linda Clay was born on October 3, 1951 in Chicago IL to Helen Clay. Her family relocated to NYC where she attended middle school at Russel Sage and Jamaica H.S.

She met Douglas Brown in her adolescents years and they began a relationship as teenagers and married in November of 1970. From this union they had 3 daughters; Andrea, Alisha and Amena.

She began her college education at La Guardia Community College and finished at Springfield College, receiving her Bachelors degree in Human Services.

Throughout her life, Linda touched the hearts of many with her warmth, kindness and laughter. She was known for her unyielding faith in God, and being a protector to those she loved most.

Linda is survived by; her Mother Helen Clay, her Ex-Husband Douglas Brown, her Daughters Andrea, Alisha & Amena, her 6 Grand children Imani, Amira, Alfred, Jordan, Christopher and Anya, and her Great Grand Alfred Coney III.

As we honor Linda today, let us carry forward her values. Embracing wisdom over wealth and nurturing the bonds that unite us as a family and community. May we find comfort in knowing her life was rich in love and understanding which continues to inspire us to seek the true treasures in life, just as Proverbs 16:16 encourages us to do.

“ In my younger days Linda would always pick me up over her head in a playful way. I cherish the good times we had together, she was no sugar coater and told you what you needed to hear more so often than what you wanted to hear. She was my cousin but more like my aunty. A very wise and loving individual. I'm going to miss her and her positive aura very much. Much love rest in Peace. Until we meet again!!

“ Aunt Helen, Andrea, Alisha & Nikki - my deepest condolences on the list of Linda. I have so many memories growing up first with her and then with her children. I will always cherish the good times we all had together. This is a journey she has to make on her own, but we will see her again. I know she is resting in peace with Big Mom, Mom, Raymond and all of our loved ones in Heaven. All is well.
Pat.
