

Marlo D. Boyd

February 18, 1975 - August 5, 2019

Marlo D. Boyd departed her earthly home and took her eternal rest on August 5, 2019. Marlo was born on February 18, 1975, in New Haven, Connecticut to the late Lurajean Allen and John Newton. Marlo was thoughtful, compassionate and a true friend to so many. Even as a young child it was evident that Marlo was well liked, loved and respected. Her radiant smile and infectious laugh would always light up any room she entered changing the atmosphere and causing those around her to be happy and at ease. Marlo was a rare jewel, a diamond in the rough. There was not a single person that she was not willing to help in the time of need. This selfless quality made it clear that she was truly an angel sent from Heaven.

Marlo received her formal education in the New Haven Public Schools where she excelled academically and would play on her high school's softball team. Upon completion of her secondary education, she would go on to pursue a long career in the healthcare profession. Until her passing, Marlo was gainfully employed with The Connecticut Hospice where she was a devoted and empathetic staff member who found great joy in comforting patients and families dealing with terminal illnesses. Marlo knew firsthand how to empathize with these families after the loss of her dear mother who she cared for and influenced her approach towards each patient and family showing both love and deep understanding.

Marlo was a rare gem. She would light up a room without even trying and while she never proclaimed to be a great singer, she could always be heard belting out her favorite tunes. Marlo's spirit and warm personality made so many gravitate to her. She made so many people realize that life is worth living and that there is no need to focus on what is going wrong, when tomorrow is a brand new day.

In November of 2007, Marlo met the love of her life Mr. Clarence "Ping" Boyd. He knew that Marlo was his soul mate and the two were wed in holy matrimony in 2009 just two years later. Through ups and downs the two were inseparable and have honored the words of their sacred vows before God which declare, "til death do us part". Marlo was a caring and loving mother who dedicated her time and energy to raising amazing children who were equipped to tackle life and win.

She leaves to cherish her memory, her beloved husband Mr. Clarence Boyd of Hamden, CT, her children Malayna Cooper of West Haven, CT, Harold Cooper, Jr, Christina Cooper and Marlon Warner, Jr of Hamden, CT. She also leaves behind her bonus children Rashan Boyd, Nasiir Boyd, Ciarra Boyd, Annie Boyd, Biaja Watts and one grandchild all of New Haven. Her siblings Melissa Allen of New Haven, Monica Allen of South Carolina, Tyrone Allen of New Haven and Brian Smith of Meriden, CT. Marlo also leaves behind her aunts Elizabeth Campbell, Mary Rebecca Cole and Josephine Martin of South Carolina, Everlena Allen, Patricia Allen and Joann Newton, Jeanette Reynolds of New Haven, Ethel Lumpkin (William) of North Haven, CT, Aretha, Catherine and Lenora Newton of Stamford, CT, Maggie-Rae Newton of New Jersey as well as her uncles, Samuel Crawford (Dot) and James Coleman of South Carolina, Leotis Allen of New Haven, Samuel Newton (Pearl) of Farmville, NC and Bobby Gray (Garnett) McKenzie of Delaware.

She was predeceased by her mother Lurajean Allen, her "mother in love" Ms.

Pearlie Boykin and her grandmothers Everlena Patterson Allen and Eva Mae Newton.

Marlo D. Boyd shall forever live in the hearts, minds and memories of a host of cousins; friends, loved ones and a community at large.
