

Martha Perez

May 5, 1926 - April 10, 2016

On April 10, 2016, Martha Perez, 89 went home to be with her heavenly father. She was born May 5, 1926 in Santurce, Puerto Rico to the late Emila Morales. She was a retired seamstress. To know Martha was to love her. She loved to dance and cook for her family,. If you play music you will always see Martha grabbing whomever was in reach and started dancing. No matter who you were with Martha's big heart if she offered you something you would have to take it because she didn't like rejection. She will be truly missed. she leaves to cherish her memories her daughters Angela Cook(Caretaker) of New Haven and Aida Perez-Velez of Staten Island, N.Y; a son Richard Perez Sr.; a sister Mary Lou Reda of Yonkers, N.Y, six grandchildren, eleven great-grandchildren and three nephews. she was predeceased by her husband Iluminado Perez and grandson Richard Perez Jr.

“ I'm going to miss Grandma.
I remember every time she visited she'd tell me how "flacita" I was (meaning skinny). I'd always say "Grandma, I've always been skinny" and she'd laugh.

We argued if I tried to give her something because she didn't like taking from others and if I didn't take what she tried giving me, she'd try to spank my butt, lol.

Grandma didn't like rejection.

Grandma did enjoy music and dancing as well as walking through the mall.

I remember she'd always tell me that she wanted a boyfriend.

As much as I will miss her, I know that she is no longer suffering and that she is now in good hands. She is with the other family members that we miss and hopefully dancing everyday.

Rest in peace for all eternity Grandma.

Love you always,
your eldest grand-daughter

I remember her always telling me that she wanted a boyfriend.

She was a kind and sweet woman but don't get on her bad side.

Those looks when she wasn't happy, oh boy.

I will miss her but I am happy to know that she will no longer suffer and that she will now be in heaven to meet with the other family members that we all miss.

Dance everyday Grandma and rest in peace for all eternity.

I know you're in good hands.

Love your eldest grandchild
