“Mildred, our gram as we know you; thanks you for your sacrifice, love, discipline, and life long teachings. It is from you that I learned many things that are essential for survival, contribution, and happiness in life. It was your example that encouraged me when giving up seemed easier, when being mad, was easier than plotting through and getting it done, and love was ten times stronger than hate. It is these lessons and teachings that will guide me through a as I never forget who you were and what meant to all of us, not just me. Thank you and I'll always love you!! Moses (first grandson)
