“ My deepest condolences to all those who loved Sherrita. When we lose someone we love in death, the pain, grief, and feelings of helplessness can seem unbearable. But remember that the Almighty God sees your tears, he feels your pain and he will continue to comfort and strengthen you through this very difficult time.

“ Not once in a million thoughts did I think "one day I am going to send condolences to my little sister". Because I knew that you could fight and win any battle you came in contact with. I found myself lately second guessing how much I really knew about you and then it occurred to me.. that you did.. you WON!! I had to come to this 1st knowing that the Body of Sherrita only housed a the true essence of the warrior you are. That your entity has reached its ultimate zenith and is becoming used to the body that is worthy of such an awesome person.. I love you dearly baby sister.. I love you because you are the beautifullest person both inside in and out.. you have the most warm spirit and I just can't wait to see the new you.. (Im unsure how it will go Wednesday! lol..) however,I know that the tears I cry will not be of regret but of longing.. and maybe even jealousy..

I love you so very much little sis.. and you have been my biggest champion.. so in return your neices and nephews will always know your name!!!

Take your rest.

“ My dear sweet cousin, from the day we met there was an instant connection. We laughed, cried, joked, and would jump on anyone together over your husband. The day I met you and realized that you too would fight for that man....I jumped for joy, for now i had found my partner in crime. Words cannot begin to express the emptiness in my heart, you were truly a genuine good soul. Not ever a negative thought or bone in your body. You amazed me daily with your strength. Although you had to encounter medical issues you still kept the faith and believed that God was on the throne...A god fearing woman you were. As I try to deal with the fact that I will not have another piece of red velvet, hear your laugh, and see that beautiful smile...I will take care of the one man that we both were equally over protective over. You were truly an angel on earth and I know God had the doors wide open awaiting your presence. I love you so much and I will continue to miss you. You are always in my heart....Love your cousin Char!

Two flying doves in the distance is always more majestic Thurman a single dove. I await to be with you one more...but this time we cannot be separated in paradise!! I LOVE YOU BABY KEEP MY SPOT IN HAVEN WARM NEXT TO YOU! MISSING YOU DEARLY!
