“ A special memory for me of KeKe, even though it was at a tragic time, was when her mom passed away. She came to her grandmothers house and that was when she was informed about her mother's passing. Although it was a sad time for her, I was amazed at how she immediately called on Jesus! She was full of His spirit even then at a young age. She has always kept the Lord by her side. Yet she still amazed me during this transition when I heard from others about the prayers and kind words she was calling out for others even though she was on her way out of this life. I will always remember her as being a true Christian and I love her. RIP my angel! You will always be truly loved!
