“ First and foremost I am sorry for your loss. But be comforted that he his free of his pain and that he is getting that long deserved rest that he needs and that when he is resurrected he will be refreshed with a refreshed body minus the health issues full of energy and life. What a blessing and joy it will be to see him in the new system. My fondest memory will be the day he nicked name me giggles and getting told to get out we to loud. He will be deeply missed.
