“ We grew up as close friends. He lived in Elberton and I lived in Royston. We often spent time at each other's home. I knew him as Leon. I last saw him when he visited my home in the Atlanta area many years ago. My condolences to the family. So sorry for your loss.

I am his granddaughter as mentioned, and though I don't remember him too too much, I know how much he loved and cherished me. Had a super young age he would spoil me with a bunch of stuff like earrings, even though because I was so young, I would probably lose them and not remember, but he did it anyway anyways because he was so loving and caring. I truly wish she was here and I know he would be so proud of me, but I'm glad that he's in a better place now and I truly miss him. I love you, Grandaddy.
